THE UK RENEWABLE ENERGY STRATEGY
THE CHALLENGE AND THE OPPORTUNITY

The 15th July 2009 marked a milestone in the UK Governments' published intentions to promote and enable the economic development and application of renewable energy technologies.

Rolton Group are commencing with the publication to you of a series of "Notes" that will track and provide informed comment on the progress of these step change proposals. The Group support Peter Rolton in his presence a member of the Renewables Advisory Board which has been instrumental in assisting in the shaping development and guidance to the Secretary of State over the preceding two and a half years. Peter was also chair of the task group examining potential changes to the planning process in relations to renewable technology application.

Please find herewith the first two of these Notes that are related to Micro-generation and are prepared with the valued assistance of The Micropower Council.

A further Note No 3 is in preparation and will comment on the proposal for enabling the swifter delivery of Renewable Energy schemes of higher output and the relationships to local communities.

We hope that you will find our Notes useful and valuable. Please call Peter or myself should you require any assistance in planning how to make the best of these challenges and opportunities.

If you have received our communication in error or do not wish to receive anything further then please contact or e mail Cheryl Mehew:- cheryl.mehew@rolton.com

Yours faithfully
for and on behalf of Rolton Group Ltd
