ROLTON GROUP
ENGINEERING THE FUTURE™

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY STATEMENT

The company is comprised of professional designers, managers and support staff dedicated to providing the highest professional level of service to clients. Staff are well qualified and corporately share wide experience across the construction industry. We maintain an emphasis on personal responsibility, offering a direct line of communication between our clients and ourselves through one person. This ensures a positive and cohesive working relationship, together with a team approach to problem solving and project management. The company works through an established Integrated Management System that addresses quality and environment which is registered and maintained to ISO standards.

OUR GOAL

Our goal is to provide a service that is environmentally sound and sustainable, underpinned by our appreciation of the whole life cycle and lasting impacts of our designs, advice and other deliverables. We achieve this by carrying out operations throughout our scope of business in an environmentally responsible manner and in accordance with ISO 14001.

POLICY

The Directors will determine detailed objectives based on the principals outlined below:-

Objectives and Targets – Our procedures aim to minimise where possible: waste, the use of hazardous materials and energy. We invest significantly to positively enhance communications with our clients to the benefit of the environment.

Protection of the Environment – To carry out our operations and services in a way that addresses and minimises the risk to the environment including the prevention of pollution.

Continual Improvement – The Company is committed to continual improvement in its products, systems and environmental performance through the benefits of enhanced personal performance and procedures.

Compliance – The Company is committed to complying with current legislation and obligations in the delivery of our services.

Stakeholder Association – We provide clear environmental and sustainable information about our services to our clients, employees and the public. We aim to provide our clients with informed advice which encompasses environmental aspects of our services. We encourage our employees to use our environmental practices and specify materials from a sustainable resource.

This policy will be reviewed annually and brought to the notice of all employees.

Peter E Rolton
Chairman
Date: 17 July 2018

Copyright © Rolton Group Ltd 2018